Concerns : BNL Karting Series open for KZ category UPDATE

Will you be the next BNL KZ champion?

The BNL Karting series is a national karting competition with a lot of international drivers. The series started 10 years ago as a 'higher level competition' to be different as the regular national competitions.

Many drivers showed up in the past 10 years. Guys like the Pex and Dontje brothers as well as Bas Lammers, Beitske Visser and of course Max Verstappen drove many laps into this series.

In 2018 we will re-open the entries for the KZ again. To make it attractive we have many prizes to give away during the events but the nicest one will of course be a free entry ticket for the KZ World Championship for the first two classified winners of the championship.

How it works?

During the race we organize two races also called "double header". One on Saturday and one on Sunday. After the Warm-up and Qualifying we foresee two Finals. On Sunday evening we combine the four results to get the weekend result.

First race at Karting Genk : Home of Champions (14th – 15th April)

The famous Karting Genk track will be the place to be for the first round of the BNL Karting Series. The track where later in September the World Championship will be held.

Second race at Circuit JPR Ostricourt (France) (30th June – 01st July)

Maybe not as famous as Genk but surely attractive. The French circuit with its sloping lay-out is a challenger for many drivers.

Third race at Karting Genk : Home of Champions (06th October – 07th October)

The Final race will be held again at Karting Genk. For the participants of the Dutch KZ championship it will be a good preparation for the final round of this championship which will be organized at Genk three weeks later.
